

Transcript of Watch our film that shares the story of every NRI coming Home.

Home, is a part of you
Even when, it is apart from you

Home, is where you want to go
Home, is where you long to be

You've left home, but home hasn't left you
Homestalgia, is the feeling you know

A memory rush, a gush of homely breeze
If you could go back home, and just freeze

The voyage of miles, is now a step away
Come back to the place, where your heart stays

Away as you may be, but there's always a way back home
This leap of faith that you take, is what you call coming home

Your people, your place, your home,
Your occasions, your celebrations, your known

Wanderlust is exhilarating, but homecoming is rejuvenating
Coming back to things as you'd left
The unparalleled warmth, of your nest

Relatable is love in novels of fiction
Undeniable is love as its directly proportional to distance

Hues of old memories, still shine the same
What you left behind, hasn't left you
Your inner circle still consists of your mains

Come home to joy, come home to smiles, come home to your people
You long for home, you belong at home
Come home with HSBC
